HONGKONG, JUNE 21ST, 1912.

The question has often been raised as to how far the use of rice is responsible for the backward condition of Eastern nations. To determine this point, however, it is necessary first to ascertain why the use of rice is confined to certain nations and the use of wheat to others. If, as is commonly alleged, the human race had its beginning in what is now known as Asia, it may be concluded that rice was the first cereal to be used as food, and that its abandonment later by certain sections of mankind was simply due to the fact that climatic conditions in the countries they migrated to did not admit of its cultivation. The history of man is now shown to date back such an enormous period, however, and the climatic changes the world has undergone since his advent have been so wide, that it is difficult to draw any conclusion as to the original use of any one cereal. Indeed, it is quite probable that two or three kinds were in use concurrently. Whether Europe was originally populated from Asia, or Asia from Europe, it appears certain that at the time of the last glacial epoch the people of Europe were for the most part driven East and South and came in contact with the rice-eating people of Asia long after the production of rice had been rendered impossible, at any rate in Northern Europe. If India is the home of the rice-plant, as is commonly supposed, it may be taken that the return wave to Europe carried the cereal with it, although there are no records that it was ever used, even by some of the southern nations of Europe, such as the Greeks. There is evidence of its introduction into Persia, however. It is noteworthy that rice is not mentioned in the Bible.

The origin of wheat is equally mysterious, though what evidence there is points to its being a native of Western Asia or Eastern Europe. If this be the case, we may take it that the cultivation of wheat spread westward through Europe and the cultivation of rice eastward through Asia, the preference for either cereal being simply due to climatic conditions. But while the cultivation of rice over the greater part of Europe is impossible, the cultivation of wheat, which lends itself by its numerous varieties much more easily to changes of climate, is possible over the whole of Asia, so that the Asiatic preference for rice cannot be explained on the grounds of necessity. It has been claimed that rice is less affected by variations in weather than other cereals, but this is a very doubtful claim, in view of the numerous famines which from time to time afflict all the principal rice-growing countries of Asia. It is certain, on the other hand, that the cultivation of rice is a much more laborious task than the cultivation of wheat and much more injurious to health, since it demands working in the water during the time the seedlings are being planted and the growing plants are weeded. Asiatic indolence cannot certainly be adduced, in these circumstances, as a reason for the preference for rice. Nor does the cereal, in spite of the labour spent on it, compare favourably with wheat in regard to its nutritive qualities, according to experts; while the medical profession generally regard a rice diet, however suitable for persons engaged in hard physical labour, as eminently unfitted for those employed in sedentary occupations. The amount of rice that has to be eaten to obtain a sufficient amount of nutriment being large, there is a tendency to unduly distend the stomach. The Japanese, as is well known, introduce a number of supplementary meals in the course of the day, the custom being to eat little and often, by which this evil is avoided. There remains only one reason why rice should be preferred to wheat, and that is the ease with which it can be prepared. To make bread, the most palatable form in which wheat can be prepared, is a long and arduous operation compared with the boiling of rice, which, furthermore, only requires cleaning, while wheat requires to be ground into flour. As regards simplicity in preparation there is, indeed, no comparison between the two cereals, and it may be suggested that it is owing to this fact that rice continues to form the staple food of Asiatic nations, whose accumulation of wealth, compared with Western nations, is notoriously small. To a people virtually living from hand to mouth, with few appliances, rice forms a convenient diet, but that it should continue to be the principal diet in later and better organised conditions by no means follows. As a matter of fact, bread is eaten, though to a very small extent, throughout Japan, and if the price of rice continues to rise in that country as it has done in the past, the use of bread may become more general. The substitution of wheat for rice, completely or in part, throughout Asia would serve to equalise the food supply throughout the world, although, of course, it would not serve to avert famines caused by abnormal climatic conditions. If it resulted in increasing the wealth of the people, however, the evil effects arising from the failure of crops would be greatly tempered. Scientific opinion has long decided that the wheat and meat eating races show the finest development and the greatest vitality. Of all the substitutes for wheat that have been tried in Europe, potatoes in Ireland, maize in Italy, oatmeal in Scotland, none has been able to take its place. The potato has been shown on reasonable grounds to have been the ruin of Ireland; and the dreadful disease of pellagra has been traced to the use of maize in Italy. Oatmeal has a better record, but the Scotch national diet has failed to make any impression in other countries. Whether wheat will ever oust rice in Asiatic countries from its position as the national food is difficult to decide, but judging from conditions in Japan, the first Eastern country to assimilate Western civilisation, such a phenomenon is not altogether improbable. It is noteworthy in this connection that wheat is now being largely grown in China in place of opium.

A Chinese who jumped from a train-car while in motion had to be sent to the hospital suffering from injuries.

A Chinese committed suicide on Wednesday by hanging. He was found with a queue string tied to his neck hanging from a beam in a house in Connaught Road.

The practice of snatching hats from pedestrians is still attempted in the western district, and a man who was yesterday convicted at the Magistracy of this offence was sentenced to three months' imprisonment and to be exposed in the stocks for six hours.

A Japanese, who was yesterday convicted of having been drunk and disorderly, was advised by Mr. Melbourne "to dilute it next time." A fine of $8 was imposed.

The directors of the Russo-Asiatic Bank of St. Petersburg have decided to raise the dividend above the figure first announced, viz., 8 per cent. The dividend will now be 9 per cent., the carry-over being correspondingly reduced from R.1,200,000 to R.787,638.

For attempting to impose upon a pawnbroker by offering a bangle as gold which was not of that pure metal a Chinese, said to be well connected in Hongkong, was yesterday sentenced by Mr. Irving at the Magistracy to three months' imprisonment.

Yesterday a man who had been sentenced on Monday to six months' imprisonment for stealing a pair of bangles from a woman was placed before Mr. Irving at the Magistracy, his Worship explaining that he had imposed the sentence he did on the understanding that the prisoner had been previously convicted. That was not so, and he reduced the sentence to six weeks' imprisonment.

The many friends of the U.S. Consul General, Dr. A. P. Wilder, will learn with regret that his latest letters do not give satisfactory news. After having been ordered to prolong his stay in California, it was thought that the Consul's health would improve under the happy climate of the West, but this, unfortunately, has not succeeded, and now it transpires, says the Shanghai Mercury, that his medical advisers have considered it necessary to remove him to hospital.

A big fire took place at 123, Connaught Road West yesterday morning, resulting in the total destruction of a four-story tenement which was occupied as a rice-store. The origin of the fire is unknown, but the flames, fanned by a strong breeze, had obtained a firm hold before the Fire Brigade appeared on the scene. The new motor was used for the first time. The building was completely gutted, and the stock was ruined. The premises were insured in four companies for $49,500.

A very creditable rescue was effected on Wednesday by the coxswain of the steam launch Lloyd's. Noticing a man in the water, he brought his craft alongside, and, assisted by a man in a rowing boat, succeeded in getting the man out of the water. He took him to Blake Pier in an unconscious condition, and two European constables tried artificial respiration with success, after which the man was removed to the hospital. He explained that he fell into the water while drunk, Wednesday being a festival.

The programme arranged for the Coronation Day Entertainment at the Palace Theatre, Mr. Austen Barracks, to-morrow night is a very attractive one, the contributors to the first part including H.E. Mr. Claud Severn, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Walker and the Kerns, Mr. R. Sutherland, Cum and Cut (ventriloquists) and Lance-Cpl. Spiegelhalter. The second part consists of a musical absurdity in one act, the characters being taken by Mr. R. M. Crosse and Capt. and Mrs. Addison. The booking is at Montreux's.

All old residents of Japan will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Henry Lucas, one of the oldest residents of Kobe, and one who has been connected with its fortunes almost since the year it was opened to foreign trade. He died on the 9th inst. The Japan Chronicle says his death came very suddenly, as few people were aware that he had even been unwell. About three weeks previously he had been thrown from a jinrikisha, and being a very heavy man the shock had a serious effect upon him. No serious alarm, however, was felt concerning him, though it was necessary for him to keep to his bed. On the day of his death he felt sufficiently well to get up, but feeling weak he went back to bed again, where he fainted, and he passed away during the afternoon from heart disease. Mr. Lucas was just on 68 years of age. He came out to Hongkong in 1867 under engagement to Messrs. Lane, Crawford & Co., and two years later started in business as a commission merchant and general agent under the style of H. Lucas & Co. During his long residence in Kobe he took a prominent interest in public affairs. He had for two periods of three years each been President of the Kobe Club, and at the time of his death he was President of the local St. George's Society. Mrs. Lucas died about fifteen years ago. The deceased leaves three sons and two daughters. The eldest daughter, who is at present in England, is the wife of Mr. W. G. Barton, of Messrs. Douglas, Lapraik & Co., Hongkong, and the younger daughter is the wife of Mr. W. E. Allen, Manila branch of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank.

Sir Francis Pigott, who leaves for Peking to-morrow, is to receive a presentation from the Law Society of Hongkong to-day.

Two bodies were found in the harbour on Wednesday near the Kee Hing wharf, death in both cases being due to drowning. A third dead body was found in the police basin at Kowloon.

A New York commercial paper states that the business of William Forbes & Co., the oldest British house in North China, long carried on in New York by the late Mr. E. J. Fraser-Campbell, has been succeeded to by Messrs. Dowler, Forbes & Co., of New York. The senior partner, Mr. Arthur E. Dowler, has been for long the managing partner of Arnold, Karberg & Co., of China.

THE OPIUM OUTLOOK.

VIGOROUS ARTICLE IN "THE TIMES."

A London telegram to the Bombay papers dated the 3rd inst. says:—

LONDON, June 3rd.
The Times this morning in an article discussing the recent appeal of opium merchants in India to the Government of India requesting discontinuance of the sale of opium for China, proceeds to an exhaustive review of the situation from the various standpoints of Indian finance, the opium merchants, and the political situation.

The journal points out that the Government of India is in a remarkable position, being confronted with the united demands of the Chinese Government, the anti-opium societies in England, and the Indian opium merchants to cease selling the drug for China, though the motives prompting these demands are widely different. Jointly, however, they constitute a formidable request.

The Times thinks the public in India and England will be in full agreement on one point—though the Chinese Government have been unable to fulfil their part of the undertaking, the traffic must stop. The question is, when? At this stage it seems to us that the Indian merchants have a right to be heard. As the result of the Anglo-Chinese agreements of 1897 and 1911 the Government of India have benefitted by huge surpluses resulting from the high prices of Government opium, based on expectations produced by the agreements. It is impossible for Great Britain to insist on the right of entry of Indian opium because there is now no central authority in China capable of enforcing the right. "We recognise the interests to be considered. The first are those of India, as a whole. If, however, a continuation of the sales causes a collapse of prices, India will receive little benefit, while the merchants will be crushed. The Government of India have sold a Government product at enormously enhanced prices, the strength of an agreement, the fulfilment of which they cannot now procure. They have pocketed the profits plentifully. In common fairness they cannot now proceed to ruin those who trusted them."

REPORTED ELOPEMENT ON THE "INDRADEO."

A New York correspondent states that Mr. Jordan L. Mott, jun., son of Mr. Jordan L. Mott, a millionaire iron manufacturer, who is an intimate friend of the Duke of Connaught, eloped on 20th inst. with an actress in the British tramp steamship Indradeo, bound for China. Mr. Mott signed on as purser, and the actress is on the ship's papers as a stewardess, because the vessel is not licensed to carry passengers. Mr. and Mrs. Mott, sen., and a private detective are in pursuit, hoping to intercept the couple at Gibraltar, which is the Indradeo's first port of call.

ARTIFICIAL RUBBER MANUFACTURE.

The Times Brussels correspondent states that it is announced that progress is now being made with the erection at Ymuiden, in Holland, of works for the manufacture of artificial rubber according to the process of a M. Van der Heyden. The raw material is principally sea fish, to which is 16 per cent. of natural rubber is added, and afterwards treated by secret process. The product obtained is said to be as flexible and elastic as natural rubber, capable of being vulcanized rapidly, and insensible to the action of benzene and heat. The by-products may serve for the manufacture of artificial manure, and the cost of production is said to be very low.

AMERICAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

SCENES IN THE CONVENTION.

LONDON, June 20th.

The Convention will be occupied with preliminaries until Friday, when the Republican candidates will be nominated.

Mr. Roosevelt in a speech strengthened the belief that he will not be defeated. He affirmed that full opportunity would be given to the elected deputies to purge the roll of delegates dishonestly placed there by the National Committee, but if they would not avail themselves of the opportunity, then the action of the Convention would be binding on no honest man.

A wire from Chicago states that the Convention has debated the motion by Governor Hadley to replace 92 of the Taft delegates by Rooseveltians, on the ground that the former were improperly placed on the roll by the National Committee.

"LIKE BRIDAM."

Mr. Watson, leader of the Taftites, proposed a reference in the motion to the credentials of the Committee. The debate was marked by vigorous exchanges and personalities, and charges of bribery. The debate reached its climax when, at the conclusion of the speeches, Mr. Hadley and Mr. Watson marched together down the aisle. The cheering assumed the character of a demonstration in favour of Mr. Hadley, who was greeted by a fire of suggestions that he should be a compromise candidate. The representatives of several States uprooted the standards and marched yelling round the hall, which was like bedlam.

Both parties are showing the utmost activity, the Taftites making every effort to maintain their majority, but there is great uncertainty as to the ultimate result.

The delegates from Illinois tried to start a refrain "We want Teddy," but it was scarcely audible above the storm of cheering for Mr. Hadley. The Missouri delegates performed a "bear dance" in front of the platform, but a beautiful girl in the gallery turned the tide in favour of Mr. Roosevelt by waving a picture of the Ex-President. The crowd desisted and cheered. Californians took the standard, the emblem on which is a golden bear, to the gallery and waved it over the head of the girl, who was brought down to the Press seats, where she led the cheering for Mr. Roosevelt. After forty-five minutes' pandemonium, Mr. Hadley consented to the reference in the resolution as to the credentials of the committee. The voting on the minor amendment showed that there were 564 Taftites and 510 Rooseveltians.

LATER.

The closeness of the voting in Chicago as between Taft and Roosevelt and the surprise demonstration in favour of Mr. Hadley, the Governor of Missouri, the leading orator of the reform movement, favours the conjecture that a dark horse may be sprung upon the Convention.

KIEL REGATTA.

SPEECH BY THE KAISER.

LONDON, June 20th.

The yacht Huntly, of Great Britain, won the International one-ton cup outright. The Kaiser, before leaving for the regatta, in a speech at Hamburg, emphasised that owing to the creation of the empire the German merchant would be able to proceed tranquilly on his way under his own flag. He had, however, observed that there was a regret in spreading the German flag, and that the flag is easily hoisted, but it costs much to lower it with honour. He expressed his gratification that many vessels of the related friendly peoples of Britain were competing at the German regattas.

DOUBLE AVIATION FATALITY.

LONDON, June 20th.

A telegram from Douai, France, states that the aviators Lieut. Peignin and Captain Dubois collided at a height of eighty feet. Their machines fell to the ground in a tangled mass and both men were killed.

THE HOME RULE DEBATE.

LONDON, June 20th.

As the result of the four days on the committee stage, on the Home Rule Bill, the first section of the first clause is passed.

Mr. Dickinson, Radical M.P., last night proposed that the Irish Parliament consist of a single chamber.

He was supported by the Opposition, who hoped that the Labourites would join, but Mr. Ramsay MacDonald refused to help the Opposition to kill the Bill and they therefore voted for the Government. The amendment was rejected by 298 to 199. In view of the slowness of the proceedings, it is expected that the Government will have recourse to the kangaroo closure.

THE DOCKERS STRIKE.

LONDON, June 20th.

The Southampton strike, has ended, the men returning to work unconditionally.

THE BRITISH BUDGET SURPLUS.

LONDON, June 20th.

The Times has reason to believe that the Government has decided to allot from three to four million pounds of the realized surplus to the redemption of the National Debt and the bulk of the remained to further provision for the Navy.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE ATTACKED BY SUFFRAGETTES.

LONDON, June 20th.

Mr. Lloyd George, after opening the Welsh bazaar at Westminster, was attacked and hustled towards the door by suffragettes. Attempts were made to knock his hat off. He shouted when going that he would give facilities for the passing of the Women's Franchise Bill. Detectives and stewards drove the women away.

AUSTRALIA AND POPULATION NEEDS.

LONDON, June 20th.

Reuter's correspondent at Melbourne telegraphs that Lord Denman, in opening the Commonwealth Parliament, said that the Ministers regard the rate of increase of the population with the deepest concern. The birth rate was too low for a young country, and it had been decided to propose a maternity grant to mothers for children born in the Commonwealth.

THE TURF.

RESULT OF ROYAL HUNT CUP.

LONDON, June 20th.

The race for the Royal Hunt Cup resulted as follows:—

Eton Boy	1
Long Set	2
Matelet	3

There were 28 runners, and the starting prices were:—100 to 12 against Eton Boy, 9 to 1 Long Set, and 50 to 1 Matelet.

The winner and Bachelor's Hope started equal favourites. Sunspot was ridden by F. Wootton; Royal Tender, Piper; Jarriettie, McGee; Oliver Goldsmith, Robbins; Prevoyant, Huxley; and Outram, Buckley. Spanish Prince, Duke Michael and Bachelor's Tax did not run.

After five furlongs had been covered Dorando was slightly ahead of Beaupaire, Eton Boy, Long Set, and Matelet. Approaching the small ring, Eton Boy took up the running from Beaupaire, Long Set, and Whisk Broom. Soon afterwards Long Set became second, but Eton Boy staying on won easily by three lengths, a length and a half separating second and third.

Somerset and South Africans drew at Bath.

The Lancashire v. Warwickshire match at Birmingham ended in a draw.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, 20th June.

IN BANKRUPTCY JURISDICTION.
BEFORE THE CHIEF JUSTICE (HON. MR. REES DAVIES, K.C.).

Mow Fung made an application for his discharge as a bankrupt.

Mr. Fletcher, the Official Receiver, said the applicant carried on business, with Dady Burjor, as merchants and commission agents. On June 27th an interim receiving order was made against the firm by a creditor. A receiving order was made on July 6th and the debtor was adjudicated bankrupt on July 13th. The bankrupt joined the firm in 1907, and at that time he had a branch of the business under his control. Since 1909 he had had full control of the business in Hongkong. When he joined the firm there were considerable outstanding liabilities, which he, the Official Receiver, was satisfied Mr. Mow Fung did not know of. Mr. Dady Burjor kept drawing out large sums for his own account, with the result that the liabilities became so large that the firm became insolvent. The business of the firm was, on the whole, well managed. Some months prior to the receiving order being made, Mr. Mow Fung must have known that the business was not in the position that it might have been. He had to resort to various expedients to obtain money, and the money he received he put into the general fund. He must have known, however, that the firm could not continue.

His Lordship—This all came out at the public examination?

Mr. Fletcher—Yes, the money was credited to the general account. I think they drew against it. In this case Mr. Mow Fung must have known—

His Lordship—That the firm was insolvent?

Mr. Fletcher—Yes.

His Lordship—Did Mr. Mow Fung personally get any benefit out of these sums?

Mr. Fletcher—No.

Mr. Fletcher stated that the debtor received two sum of £100 each as an advance from John Begg &amp; Co., for whom he had contracted to sell the firm's whisky.

His Lordship—I have not inquired into that; I must assume that it is so.

Mr. Fletcher—It has been fully gone into, my Lord.

His Lordship—The assets will not realise 20 per cent.?

Mr. Fletcher—Nothing like it.

His Lordship—It is impossible to grant a discharge.

Mr. Fletcher—The discharge must be suspended.

His Lordship—Yes, it must be suspended under section 27, because the assets will not realise 20 per cent.

The debtor stated that he had hoped in time to make the business successful. He did not know anything about the smaller details.

His Lordship—Probably he was the victim of his predecessors.

Mr. Fletcher—The failure of the firm was due to his predecessors. The last transactions, however, had nothing to do with his predecessors.

His Lordship—I am bound to suspend you, under the law as it stands here. Are you carrying on business yourself?

The debtor—No, my Lord, I have a partner.

His Lordship—Are you in a position to guarantee payment if I fix a period?

The debtor—I am not in a position to make any definite promise. If I do succeed in making this business go, I will certainly pay back all the people who have lost their money.

The debtor was suspended for eighteen months.

ORDER TO ADMINISTER.

This was an application by R. Aitken for an order to administer the bankrupt estate of S. Farrel. The application was made by Mr. Otto Kong Sing for the administrator, who applied as a creditor. The business had been that of engineers, in partnership with another man. The application was for $1,873, for money lent, legal expenses, and probate duty held in security. Letters of administration were granted to him in the estate, but the estate was not sufficient to pay the duties. The liabilities were $70,000, and the assets $61,000 or thereabouts. In respect to the properties at present held in moiety, one moiety belonged to the late partner, and the other to the estate. There had been some difficulty in realising on the estates. The properties were mortgaged, but the administrator hoped to realise something. The Official Receiver said he had no objection to the order, which was accordingly granted.

EXORBITANT INTEREST.

A public examination was held in connection with the bankruptcy of A. M. Costa. The debtor said he had borrowed various small sums, and in nearly every case the money-lenders had made him sign for double the amount. The average interest was 120 per cent. per annum. He had often to borrow again to pay off the original loans.

Mr. Fletcher—The debtor proposes to pay $20 per month out of a salary of $72, for the benefit of his creditors. That sum is, I think, reasonable. I would ask that the examination be closed and adjudication be deferred.

His Lordship—If you get free of your creditors, don't you go and borrow any more from these money-lenders. They encourage you to rob, not only yourself, but others.

The examination was closed.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE MR. H. H. J. COMPARTZ (PUNISH JUDGE).

AN OFFICIAL TRANSACTION.
This was a case in which the Clace Wo firm, customs agents and brokers, sued the Tong Fat firm of opium dealers, for $440.57, being balance due from the defendants to the plaintiffs in respect of duty and litan paid by the plaintiffs for and on behalf of defendants, on one case of Patna opium imported per s.s. Shan Lee at the request of the defendants.

Mr. F. X. D'Almada appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. F. B. L. Bowley for the defendants.
The defence was that, on or about May 18th, 1911, defendants' agents, the Wo Fat, shipped one case of Patna opium on board the s.s. Shan Lee at Hongkong, and consigned the chest to the plaintiffs at Kong Mun, in China, for delivery to the Wui Tung, of Chiek Hom, in China, on payment by the Wui Tung of all freight, duties and other charges. Defendants did not know whether the chest of opium was or was not delivered by the plaintiffs to Wui Tung, but if it was so delivered it was the duty of the plaintiffs to recover from the Wui Tung the amount of all freight, duties, and other charges disbursed by the plaintiffs in respect of such chest. Defendants denied that the plaintiff paid the $42 in respect of duties or other charges on behalf of defendants. His Lordship gave judgment for defendants.

CHINESE ENGINEERING AND MINING COMPANY.

PROPOSED WORKING ARRANGEMENT.

From The Times of May 31st we take the following:—

The Chinese Engineering and Mining Company announces that an extraordinary general meeting of the company will be held on June 7th next for the purpose of submitting to the shareholders certain arrangements which have been made between the company and the Grand Mining Company of Poyang and Lanchow (the Lanchow Mining Company), with the approval of the British and Chinese Governments.

The arrangement provides, among other things, that the two companies are to retain their separate existence, but are to combine to form an association to be called the Kailan Mining Administration, which will administer the business of the two companies in China.

The profits made by the Administration up to £200,000 are to be applied as follows:—60 per cent. to the Chinese Engineering and Mining Company (Limited), and 40 per cent. to the Lanchow Mining Company, any excess to be divided equally between the two companies. The net profits are to be arrived at after deduction of interest on the Debentures, provision for redemption of the Debentures in 50 years, and setting aside a reserve fund (which shall belong equally to both companies) of 15 per cent. on the gross profits, or not less than £25,000 per annum. Any additional capital required is to be provided equally by the two companies.

A deliberating board is to be established in Tientsin, three members to be appointed by each company; the company which has issued the largest amount of Debentures is to have a casting vote. A Chief Manager and Assistant Manager are to be appointed by the deliberating board. The Chief Manager is to have the control of all business affairs.

The mining area of the Administration is to be limited to the mining areas of the two companies as originally fixed and on official record. Within that area no development is to be allowed by competitors.

After the shareholders have received £150,000 out of the profits, one-fifth part of the remaining profits are to be handed over to the Province of Chihli for the development of industries.

After ten years from the date of the agreement the Lanchow Mining Company is to have the right to purchase the whole property of the Chinese Engineering and Mining Company (Limited), at a price to be agreed upon by both parties.

The present Chinese Engineering and Mining Company will be liquidated and a new company formed with a share capital of £1,000,000 sterling, which will acquire all the rights of the present company. The new company will make an issue of 8 per cent. Debentures to provide funds for the following purposes:—The redemption of the First and Second Debentures of the present company, amounting together to £460,000. The provision of £250,000 working capital for the Kailan Mining Administration. The payment of £1,500,000 to the Lanchow Mining Company to provide for its debts. A further payment of £500,000 to the Lanchow Mining Company. The payment of £500,000 to the Viceroy of Chihli as representing the Chinese Government. The payment of £1,000,000 to Chang Yen Mao in full satisfaction of all claims in connection with the present company and its affairs. The payment not exceeding £400,000 in respect of other liabilities in China. The premium on the redemption of existing Debentures, and the commission and charges for placing the Debentures of the new company.

EUROPEAN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS.

The following correspondence has been passed between the Government and the Chamber of Commerce:—

Colonial Secretary's Office, 28th February, 1912.

SIR,—I am directed to transmit the enclosed copy of a letter dated the 22nd instant from Messrs. Johnson, Stokes & Master, and I am to enquire whether in the opinion of your Committee there is sufficient demand to justify the proposed legislation.—I am, etc., (Sgd.) CLAUD SEVEN, Colonial Secretary.

The Secretary, Hongkong Chamber of Commerce.

Hongkong, 22nd February, 1912.

SIR,—We have recently been consulted by European firms of standing and repute in this Colony, who desire to take into their firms partners whose liability they desire to limit to the amount of the capital to be brought into the firm by the proposed new partners.

We have advised them that this arrangement cannot at present be effected in this Colony, as under the Partnership Ordinance of Hongkong the liability of each partner in a European firm is unlimited.

In England, by virtue of the Limited Partnerships Act, 1907, Limited Partnerships may be formed in the manner provided by the Act, and the liability of any person who is duly registered in accordance with the Act as a limited partner is limited to the amount contributed by him to the firm.

The provisions in this Act have conferred many practical advantages on business firms. It has enabled them to obtain a much larger command of capital than they would have otherwise been enabled to obtain, and it has thus increased their stability and given them greater opportunities to extend their business. The Government of Hongkong have already, by the Chinese Partnerships Ordinance, 1911, recognised a number of Limited Partnerships so far as Chinese firms are concerned, and our clients have instructed us to suggest to your Government the desirability of extending the principle to European firms by re-enacting in Hongkong the English Limited Partnerships Act, 1907.

In conclusion we would beg leave to inform you that one of our clients is extremely desirous of thus re-constructing their firm at the earliest possible moment, and we would therefore beg that this matter should have your early attention.—We have, etc., (Sgd.) JOHNSON, STOKES & MASTER, The Honourable, The Colonial Secretary.

The Honourable, The Colonial Secretary.

Hongkong Chamber of Commerce, 12th March, 1912.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th February, 1912, and in reply beg to state that after consideration the Committee of this Chamber are of opinion the legislation asked for by Messrs. Johnson, Stokes & Master might well be proceeded with.

The advantages to be derived by introducing Limited Partnerships in Hongkong are set forth in the letter from that firm, viz., the increased facilities offered for investing capital both to the firm desiring capital and by the investor who wishes to obtain a return on his money without incurring further risk than would be incurred by holding shares in a Limited Liability Company.

The Hongkong Government have already accepted the principle as far as Chinese are concerned, while, as you are aware, the Home Government have already legislated in this direction in bringing in the Limited Partnerships Act of 1907.

A demand having now arisen for similar facilities in Hongkong, the Committee are of opinion it will be to the benefit of the Colony were a similar Bill to be brought in in the local Legislature.—I am, etc., (Sgd.) EDWARD A. HENNESSY, Chairman.

The Honourable, The Colonial Secretary.

Colonial Secretary's Office, 26th April, 1912.

SIR,—Referring to your letter of 12th March and 24th instant on the subject of Limited Partnerships, I am directed to inform you that a Bill has been drafted which will be brought before the Legislative Council at its next meeting.

2.—I attach a print of the Bill, and I shall be glad to learn whether it meets the views of your committee.—I am, etc., (Sgd.) ED. BULLOCK, for Colonial Secretary.

The Secretary, Hongkong Chamber of Commerce.

Hongkong Chamber of Commerce, 15th June, 1912.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th April, 1912 (No. 89/1912), enclosing copy of a draft Bill on the subject of Limited Partnerships.

My Committee are glad to note that the Bill has passed the Legislative Council.—I am, etc., (Sgd.) E. A. M. WILLIAMS, Secretary.

The Honourable, The Colonial Secretary.

PROPOSED HARBOUR IMPROVEMENT.

The following correspondence has been forwarded to us by the Secretary of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce for publication:—

Colonial Secretary's Office, 30th January, 1912.

SIR,—I am directed to inform you that the Government has recently had under consideration the improvement of the Western entrance to the Harbour with a view to providing increased facilities for ships of deep draft making use of this port.

2.—The Harbour Master has given it as his opinion that if a channel were made, as indicated on the chart enclosed, giving a breadth of 21 cables and a depth at low water of 5 fathoms so that deep laden ships could enter by the Sulphur Channel at any state of the tide, the conditions of the port would then be first class.

3.—The Director of Public Works roughly estimates the cost of the proposal at $300,000, assuming that the bottom to be dredged is soft and allowing $30,000 for docking and refitting the Government dredger. If the dredging were done in the deep water to the left of Green Island or on the bank to the North, the cost would be reduced by $40,000. It might also be possible to use the spoil in connection with the suggested Praya East reclamation.

4.—The work would have to be carried out gradually, the expenditure on it being limited to such amount as could be annually provided in the estimates and it might be possible to appropriate $40,000 for the purpose in the Colonial Budget for 1913.

5.—I am directed to invite the opinion of your Chamber on the proposal.—I am, etc., (Sgd.) C. CLEMENTI, Colonial Secretary.

The Secretary, Hongkong Chamber of Commerce.

Hongkong Chamber of Commerce, 25th February, 1912.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 20th ultimo (No. 6522/03, C.O.D.) informing this Chamber that the Government has had under consideration the question of improving the entrance to the Harbour by dredging a certain section of the channel immediately to the Eastward of Green Island.

The proposal as set forth in your letter under reply has now been considered by the Committee of the Chamber, and I am directed to reply that in their opinion it is not imperative that the proposed section of the Sulphur Channel should be dredged, while the benefit to the shipping would be small and out of all proportion to the sum it is estimated would have to be spent on the work.

The Channel as it now exists is sufficient for the needs of the average ocean steamer visiting this port.

Vessels drawing 25 feet and upwards do occasionally visit this port, but these can either enter the harbour from the Westward by passing North of Green Island, as is usually done by the steamers of the Pacific Mail Company, or by making the comparatively slight detour to the Eastward through the Lyceum Pass, as is the custom of the deep draught vessels of the P. & O. and other British Companies.

So far as can be foreseen while the opening of the Panama Canal will probably make a great change in the shipping trade to the Far East, the draught of vessels calling at Hongkong will not be much, if at all, increased.

Should experience prove that the above forecast is incorrect and that deeper vessels do visit the port, the whole question will require reconsideration, as it would appear that under such conditions a new survey of the entire harbour would be necessary and a comprehensive scheme considered for dredging far more than the comparatively small section now under consideration.

In view of these facts my Committee are of opinion that the proposed scheme should be abandoned, but suggest that a notification might very well be published by the Harbour Department indicating the course deep draught vessels should follow if entering or leaving the Harbour by the Channel North of Green Island.—I am, etc., (Sgd.) E. A. M. WILLIAMS, Secretary.

The Honourable, The Colonial Secretary.

CHINESE PORK.

During the month of April a vessel arrived in the Victoria Dock from China bringing 50 pig-carcases from Shanghai. Four were found to be diseased, and were seized and destroyed. There were also on board 40 carcasses of pigs from Harbin, in Manchuria, which had not been examined down to May 30th. Besides these were 56 packages from Manchuria, which contained pigs' carcasses. These latter were not allowed to be imported, as the foreign meat regulations had not been complied with.

ALLEGED INFRINGEMENT OF TRADE MARKS.

The hearing was concluded at the Magistracy yesterday before Mr. Melbourne of the case in which the Wo Lee proceeded against the Lam Fat Shing for infringing complainants' trade mark applied to grass-cloth.

Mr. Potter said it had been contended by his friend that the case should be dismissed because the defendants had not falsely applied the trade mark but only a portion of it, but the mere fact of applying an essential portion of a trade mark was an offence under the Merchandise Trade Marks Ordinance. If his friend's argument was correct there was no protection to the persons registering trade marks, and if his Worship were to hold that defendants had not committed an offence although they had taken an essential part of complainants' trade mark he submitted that the object of the Ordinance would be defeated.

Mr. Brutton said his friend had pinned his whole case on the trade mark. Had defendants infringed the trade mark—not an essential portion of a trade mark but the whole trade mark? Defendants had to falsely apply the whole of the trade mark before they were guilty. If a rose appeared in complainants' trade mark and a rose appeared in defendants' trade mark then defendants, on his friend's contention, would be guilty. Complainants said that defendants had falsely applied complainants' trade mark to defendants' goods, and he put it to his Worship that the trade marks were dissimilar. Complainants had to prove that the trade mark adopted by defendants was calculated to deceive purchasers.

His Worship said it seemed to him that the trade marks were not identical. The only point was the character which was used in each.

Mr. Potter replied that if his friend's argument were correct anyone could take part of a trade mark, any essential part put it in different surroundings and truthfully say he had not taken the trade mark.

Mr. Brutton made a remark which was not audible to the Press.

Mr. Potter—What do you say?

Mr. Brutton—I asked you for the date.

Mr. Potter—You did not only ask for the date, you used extremely bad language.

Mr. Brutton—I ask you to stick to the truth.

Mr. Potter—My friend alleges that I am telling lies. I am not accustomed to being addressed in that way. I would not stand it from my friend at any rate.

His Worship said he was sorry he had been asked to decide that case, because there was a case pending in the Supreme Court. He discharged the defendant.

THE FRENCH MUNICIPAL COUNCIL AT SHANGHAI.

MEMBERS SUSPENDED BY THE CONSUL.

The French Consul-General, M. Dejean de la Batie, who is President of the Council, addressed a letter to the French Council last week in which he intimated that the members had been suspended from duty and that a new commission "of urgency" would be constituted by the Consul-General to take their place in carrying on the affairs of the concession. The letter, of which the following is a translation, reads:—

W. M. Dejean de la Batie, Consul-General of France, Chevalier of the Legion of Honour:—

Seeing that in the relations between the French Consul-General and the Consul d'Administration Municipale de la Concession Française de Shanghai, reciprocal understanding and good confidence are necessary; seeing that such has not existed for some time; seeing that on several occasions the Council has manifested systematic hostility towards the chief of the Garde Municipale (French Police) and in a general manner towards the service of the police force, an authority which belongs solely to the Consul-General, and that, by its manner of acting, it provokes disagreeable misunderstandings in the police service, and risks the possibility of lowering the chief of police in his command; seeing that as appears from the minutes of the last sitting of the Council, the members have shown a want of respect towards the Consul-General himself; seeing that under these circumstances it is impossible that the administration of affairs can be carried on further by the present Council; and in the present circumstances it is impossible that a state of permanent conflict should be established between the Consul-General and the Municipal Council; therefore, under Article 8 of the Regulations of Organisation of the French Concession, dated April 14th, 1903, we have ordered and order:—

Article 1.—That the Municipal Council actually exercising functions be suspended, and an account of the matter shall be rendered to the Minister of Foreign Affairs in Paris as well as the French Minister to Peking, as prescribed by the article cited above.

Article 2.—That a "commission of urgency" will be provisionally constituted, under the presidency of the Consul-General, to whom will be charged the administration of the French Concession in conformance with the regulations.

M. Dejean de la Batie, in an interview, said that if the members of the Council or the inhabitants of the French Concession were dissatisfied with the decision he had arrived at, they could give voice to their feeling in the matter by forwarding an application to the French Minister to Peking and the Foreign Affairs Office at Paris. He himself would submit a report of the matter to these headquarters. The Council or inhabitants could send on an independent report of their version of the disagreement. Part of the trouble had already been reported to Peking by himself, acting with the consent of the Council.

LIFE-SAVING AT SEA.

COMMENDABLE SYSTEM ON T.K.K. STEAMERS.

Of interest to the travelling public is the following letter by Congressman Redfield:—

To Editor of the New York Times.
In all the discussions about the Titanic disaster I have seen no reference to the methods used on the Japanese steamships operated by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha (Oriental Steamship Co.) operating between San Francisco, Japan, and Hongkong.

When taking recently two voyages on vessels of this Company my attention was called, when entering my cabin for the first time on each voyage, to a plainly printed card which was framed and hung in the cabin in a prominent place. The card gave the number and the location of the particular lifeboat to which the occupants of that cabin were assigned, and, if I recall correctly, stated the officer in charge of that boat.

Having my attention called thus to the place allotted to me in case of disaster, it was natural to go to that boat to find where and what it was, and I found that other passengers had done the same thing. In like manner one became acquainted with the officer in whose charge he would be in case of trouble.

It is furthermore obvious from this arrangement that lifeboats were provided sufficient, at least, for all the passengers and some, if not all, of the crew.

TWO NEW P. &amp; O. STEAMERS ORDERED.

The directors of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company have placed an order for two additional steamers of the Ballarat class, each of 11,100 tons, for the P. & O. branch service (formerly the Blue Anchor Line) of one-class steamers to Australia by way of the Cape. The total additions to the branch fleet since the purchase of the line by the P. & O. Company will, with the completion of these new vessels, have amounted to five steamers aggregating nearly 60,000 tons register.

NOTES AND NEWS.

THE WHISPER GIRL.

A whisper girl has been installed at the Globe Theatre to receive telephone calls and convey the message in a whisper to the person in the audience concerned.

WOMEN AS BARRISTERS.

A Bill has been introduced in the House of Commons by Viscount Wolmer, to enable women to become barristers or solicitors. It is backed by Mr. Lansbury, Lord Robert Cecil, and others.

DEFECTIVE VISION AMONG CHILDREN.

Defective vision was found, says Dr. T. Henry Jones, medical officer for Surrey, in 15 per cent. of 11,037 children from seven years of age upwards tested by the medical inspectors during the routine inspections.

OPENING OF £3,000,000 DOCK.

In view of the hope that the King will, some time in the autumn, perform the formal opening, the new Inmingham dock at Grimsby was last month opened to traffic without any ceremony. The dock has been constructed by the Great Central Railway. The first sod was cut on July 13th, 1906. The main central basin is 1,100ft. square, with two arms 1,220ft. long by 375ft. wide. The largest steamers will be able to enter at any state of the tide. There is also a graving dock 740ft. long and 56ft. wide. The total cost is estimated at £3,000,000.

COURTEOUS WATER COMPANY.

A resident of Westcliff-on-Sea received the following letter from the Southend Waterworks Company, and recommends it as a pattern:

DEAR SIR,—I came duly in receipt of your favour of May 1 intimating that you will be leaving the above house on May 28th. As you have been good enough to pay the water rate up to June 24th next, the sum of 5s. 8d. will have been overpaid by you, and if you will kindly sign and return the enclosed form to me the amount will be remitted in due course. If you are leaving the district, it only remains for me to thank you on behalf of the company for your custom in the past.

A LOCK-JAW CURE.

What would have been pronounced a miracle cure a very few years ago has just taken place at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, writes the Medical correspondent of the Daily Mail. The patient, a young foundry hand, had fallen off a London tramway-car, inflicting a slight flesh wound on his thumb. The deadly lock-jaw germs ever lurking in the London street dust found their way into the wound, and ten days later the early symptoms of stiffness and pain in the jaw muscles showed themselves. Admitted to St. Bartholomew's, anti-tetanic serum was at once administered in the ordinary way but failed to prevent the development of the disease. The unusual procedure of injecting the serum directly into the patient's spinal canal was then adopted in the hope that the necessity of amputating the man's thumb (and so destroying his chance of earning a livelihood) might be obviated. As only the slightest abatement of the symptoms resulted a second large dose of the serum was injected on the following day into the spinal cord and at the same time a small portion of the fleshy part of the thumb, including the site of the original wound, was excised. Immediate improvement followed and two days later two tea-spoonfuls of a weak carbolic acid solution were injected into a vein in the arm as a final precaution. From then on the patient has made uninterrupted progress towards recovery and is to be discharged cured to-day. "The case is of intense interest," said one of the hospital staff, "as proving the great value even in acute lock-jaw cases of anti-tetanic serum when injected into the spinal canal. A very few years ago the man most probably would have lost his life, to say nothing of his thumb. Thanks to the serum, what used to be in the great majority of cases a hopeless disease from the start may now be reckoned among the ailments modern curative science has conquered."

24 YEARS OF CRICKET.

A FAMOUS PLAYER'S BOOK.

There are few people better qualified to talk on matters pertaining to Test Match cricket than A. A. Lilley, the famous Warwickshire and England wicket-keeper. For many years Lilley was regarded as the first wicket-keeper in the land, and although perhaps there came others who might have disputed the right for international honours, Lilley's batting and his splendid knowledge of the game always ensured for him a place in an England team.

In his book, "Twenty-four Years of Cricket," recently published by Mills & Boon at 7s. 6d., Lilley has written just a plain history of his experiences during the past twenty-four years. It is highly interesting, this dip into the pages of the past; while his advice to young players should prove, indeed is certain to prove, of interest to all who are interested in the game and are anxious to improve.

THE WORK OF THE PROFESSIONAL.

Lilley has done a great deal of travelling during his career, visiting Australia on several occasions, and it is of interest to note what he says concerning the work of the first-class cricketer. His reference is made particularly to the players who have had a tour in Australia, after probably a hard season in England. "That the long rest from the summer pastime necessarily entailed by the winter months is beneficial to the cricketer, I am not disposed to question; but at the same time," writes Lilley, "I do not think that three successive seasons ought in any way to make him stale, provided that he looks after himself well. I am referring more particularly to the batsmen and fielders, and certainly these departments ought not in any way to suffer; but for the bowlers and wicket-keeper it may be admitted that it becomes rather hard work, and these players may give some evidence of the strain imposed upon them."

The author's opinion of the many famous cricketers he has played with and against obviously must carry considerable weight. Blackham, the Australian, Lilley describes as the "greatest wicket-keeper I ever had the privilege of seeing."

THE WORLD'S CHAMPION.

Referring to the greatest of all great players, the author remarks that as a batsman pure and simple Dr. W. G. Grace occupied a position quite by himself. "And," he adds, "when studying his earlier records, one must remember that he was opposed to some of the finest bowling that this country has produced, and upon wickets widely different from the perfect ones of more recent years. It is not easy for cricketers of the present decade to realise the difficulties that batsmen of a generation ago had to overcome, and the skill that was required to make a score of comparatively modest dimensions. Dr. Grace himself recalls that when he first played a wicket was a very unsatisfactory condition, and in 1864 the turf was so rough that Sussex actually refused to play there."

"So far as English cricket is concerned," adds Lilley, "it is difficult to estimate the debt it owes to the world's champion," and, with this sentiment the cricketing world will surely agree.

THE IMPLEMENTS OF THE GAME.

The author confesses that he has always been opposed to any alterations in the implements of the game, but remarks that the abolition of all inducements to play a drawn match is a legitimate reform of which every cricketer must thoroughly approve. Increasing the number of balls has had a greater effect in bringing about definite results than would either the heightening of the wickets or decreasing the width of the bat, and has also been successful in producing the result desired—brighter cricket; and any alteration in the bat or stumps would have produced exactly the opposite effect, for it would have made a batsman exercise additional care in the protection of his wicket, and so have unnecessarily added to the dullness, without any corresponding benefit.

Space will not permit of more being said of the many features which make this book so valuable to the cricketer-lover. Lilley's big experience and splendid judgment have so often been proved that his opinions on any point connected with the game of cricket would be valuable. Pall Mall Gazette.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOYS.

INDICTMENT BY HEADMASTER OF RUGBY.

The serious imputations directed against the modern public school boy respecting his knowledge of English, physical degeneration and his outlook towards social questions, formed the subject of an outspoken address by Dr. A. A. David, headmaster of Rugby School, before the Parents' National Educational Union on May 14th.

"Broadly speaking," said Dr. David, "I must admit the impeachment that must public school boys are unable to express themselves either in writing or speech." He had been struck lately by the fact that boy after boy who had shown himself no fool in other branches of work broke down hopelessly when he came to English. Some boys seemed incapable of any appreciation of English literature. The danger was that because the best equipped boys attained to power of self-expression there was a tendency to be satisfied with the whole of the public school system. He asked them to believe that many headmasters were profoundly dissatisfied with this state of affairs, and were striving hard to invent popular new types of English lessons which would, by inductive and other methods, place the development of a faculty before the amassing of facts.

USE OF TONICS.

Referring to the charge of the decline of hardihood and the growing dislike for discomfort and pain amongst public school boys, Dr. David stated that the pre-arranged in all public schools of a large number of boys so delicate that fifty years ago they could not have been sent to a public school at all, and secondly, there was the widespread habit of morbid attention to the details of health which showed itself in reliance upon medicines. In some cases boys returned to Rugby with their trunks stuffed with tonic wines. This all went down the sink. He wanted boys to be ashamed to be ill, and not to be continually thinking about their symptoms. He realised that health was not best attained by the conscious pursuit of it, and therefore encouraged a return to some of the old sternness and simplicity by the self-imposition of a robust attitude and an uncompromising resistance of anything that enervated.

The suggestion that the public school boy was growing less willing to take on the burdens of local government was not without foundation. It was growing harder each year to get public school men to sit on district councils and boards of guardians. The effect of the corrective tendencies had not yet appeared. He believed that it was necessary to give some instruction in the elementary facts of social economics. Hitherto the boys had not cared about these things, because they knew nothing of them.

SOCIALISTS.

At all the public schools there was now a keen intellectual set of boys who termed themselves Socialists. Those boys, said Dr. David, will be unlikely to call themselves Socialists after ten years' hard work amongst the realities of life. The
